The organization of the different sessions will be communicated in due time on the congress website.

Website

The congress website is now on line: iias-congress2017.org.

Any information with regards to the Congress will be regularly posted on the website.

Keep an eye on it!

Accommodation

The month of May will be a busy period for Aix-en-Provence. We therefore recommend you to book your room enough time in advance to benefit from the special rates negotiated for the event.

For more information please access the following link: iias-congress2017.org/practicalities/accommodation.
Travel to Aix-en-Provence

As in previous years, the IIAS will renew its collaboration with the Skyteam Alliance Official Network programme so that you can benefit from a preferential rate on your airline tickets.

Please stay tuned for further information!

Environment

Ecological responsibility is one of the principles of the IIAS.

The conference programme is available online and will not be printed for distribution on site. The e-version is easy to access and use and can be found via the following link: www.iias-congress2017.org.
